This graphic provides a visual for the consequences of a breach of the Code of Conduct. In summary:

- If a learner commits a misuse, they receive a soft warning.
- The first time a learner commits a mild offense, they receive a soft warning.
- The second time a learner commits a mild offense, they receive an official warning.
- If a learner commits 3 mild offenses OR 1 severe offense, then they will be temporarily banned from the programme and required to complete a mini-course before being allowed re-entry.
- Any subsequent offense after completion of the mini-course will result in expulsion (that is, permanently banned from ALX.)

Expulsion can also result immediately from any offense deemed severe enough.
